

Music Club report 2022

After the restriction allowed (~July 2021), Music Club started to be very active and we held with great success 3 concerts up to December when all restrictions began to be stricter (5 months, 1.5 months apart from each other). The first Jam-live organized by JamClub of Music Club was held in July, followed by famous PSIchedelics (cover PSI rock band) in September, and Halloween Live/Dj Party at the end of October. All these events were evaluated as a great success by the audience, and the whole organization and/or OASE management (PSIchedelics concert). Unfortunately, the last concert, in December (Christmas market event), had to be canceled due to new restrictions at PSI effective in late November.

The number of members increased significantly in 2021, and they regularly practice on an almost daily basis. The Grand piano used by many musicians was tuned and fixed (not to lose detuning so fastly). The Music Club inventory also helped to organized the club equipment, repair, and dispose not useful/working music instrument, cables and other items. The Music Club organization improved/upgraded via several channels, such as the club website, Music Club inventory (helping with organization), PSI Music Club external drive, new Music Room calendar, new Jam Club merchandise (T-shirts, jackets, Hats, etc.), promotion of Music club on a different level, and also (re)connection with PPA organization. Gluing teambuilding (internal) Music Club events, such as BBQs and gatherings for Music Club members are regularly organized. The club has been constantly improved via the music club members and new ideas. Additionally, new bands have been created bringing novelties to the whole club.

Music club created a great environment connecting people, where they can find a nest and daily friends, who can talk and have fun with, in these difficult corona times. The musicians in bands gradually improve musically as well as with their instruments, learn from each other, and enjoy the time spent during practices (and events). This also helps for overall performance at PSI, as all members are more relaxed.

In 2022, the Music club plans to have several events after the restrictions allow (already working on new playlists and performances).
